Tom,

Thanks very very much for your kind words.
And I'm very happy that you were able to attend.
It means a great deal to me to also surface the connections of technology and technologists to all aspects of the business.
Getting the geeks, hackers and nerds to show off and contribute more to our integrated offering is the goal.
Looking forward to working closely together with everyone and making even more progress.

Onward!

Chick

Congratulations on CreateTech...your tireless efforts and passion have resulted in the creation of a very significant 4A's community.

The buzz among attendees was incredibly positive. The attendees that I spoke with thoroughly enjoyed the sessions, were inspired by the future possibilities that were discussed and relished the ability to connect with other technologists {interestingly they seem to prefer to be labelled as geeks,hackers or nerds---who knew}

You done good

You should be proud of your creation.

Anyone that thinks that 4A's is not relevant and contemporary should have been at CreateTech

Thank you for your outstanding effort
